PEN PORTRAITS

Of the Law-Makers of the State of Nevada.

HON. E. P. HARDESTY,
Democratic Senator from Elko county, is now in his 64th year. He is the tallest man in the body—standing six foot four inches in his stocking feet. He is often mistaken for United States Senator William M. Stewart, on account of the striking resemblance he bears to him. He has gray hair, whiskers and moustache, with a large, broad chin, which indicates heaps of firmness and deliberation. His ears, I think, are larger than those of any gentleman whose profile I have given you. The lugs correspond with the main formation, and indicate too much good nature for their owner's welfare. He is a native of the State which gave us a Henry Clay, and feels proud of the fact that he served in the same regiment in the Mexican war that was commanded by Colonel Thompson—the Major of which was Hon. John C. Breckinridge, afterwards Vice-President of the United States. He came to the Pacific Coast in early days, and is looked upon as one of the pioneers. He has sky blue eyes, but of a penetrative, good natured, music-loving character. His nose is very large, indicating that if he had enjoyed the advantages accorded the youth of the present day, he would have figured conspicuously in political circles. His chin, though covered, as I said before, by heavy gray whiskers, convinces me that he never turned back in his life. Revolution in his country would find him on the side of his neighbors, notwithstanding his extraordinary love of country, and therein lies the respect shown him by his colleagues. He is married, and his lovely wife, with her niece, Miss Louise Humphreys, accompany him at the present session of the Legislature. On the whole, he is a general, whole-souled gentleman, one not given to long-winded speeches, but, on the contrary, desires to see less laws on the statute books of the State and more common sense in those that remain. There is one fault in his composition which all the laws of etiquette or society, not even the influences of his good wife, can never destroy, and that is his disposition to make everybody happy as well as himself. He is a hold-over Senator, and as long as Elko can claim him she will be well and faithfully represented in him.

HON. H. HARRIS,
Democratic Senator from Douglas county, is not only a natural born statesman, but is the great exception to the general rule of this body. He sits near the window in the northwestern wing of the chamber. He is invariably alone. I never saw him in consultation with his brother Senators yet. This is a very strange character. In height he is a little above the average. He has dark hair, moustache and goatee. His ears are very large, and lie very close to his cranium, indicating carefulness, accumulation; and, in consequence of the smallness of the lugs, a very small modicum of generosity. His good fellowship depends entirely upon those with whom he associates, and nine cases out of ten, they will be of his own race and nationality. Judging from his appearance, I would infer that he belongs to the same family as that which made Lord Beaconsfield the Prime Minister of the British Empire; and no doubt in my mind exists, but that the same influences sent him to the Senate from Douglas county. He wears glasses, and, characteristic of his race, endeavors to hide behind them his ulterior purposes. That he is honest, straightforward, circumspect and diligent, as well as accumulative and economical in his disposition, is easily determined whenever he lifts the glasses and his large brown eyes can be seen by the observer. His nose indicates the nationality whence he sprung, and gives every evidence that he belongs to the "wandering tribes of Israel." He has a broad, high forehead, which, added to the size of his nose, both of which are intellectual, distinctively proclaim him to be a man who believes that "business is business;" or, in other words, he is one who considers "every man a dead man unless he has money." He is a stout, hearty, sober, industrious, attentive, disgruntled representative of the minority, and is known as the (great) would-be objector of the Nevada Legislature. He is 49 years of age, single, and by occupation a merchant; resides at Genoa, not Italy's gay metropolis, but the center of Douglas county. Had he been a resident of the former instead of the latter, he might be content with the possession of two acres of ground, on which a few grape-vines might be profitably cultivated; but here in free America he is not satisfied with 100 acres of land, which every citizen is entitled to, but holds a first mortgage on all the small holdings in his immediate neighborhood—hence his wealth and political influences.

HON. ISAAC GRISWOLD,
Republican Assemblyman from Elko county, is a farmer, and although only in his 38th year, has been eminently successful in his calling. He is a native of Illinois, where he first imbibed that love for agricultural pursuits which has enabled him to rise to prominence in this glorious climate of Nevada. His hair is dark and thick, while his moustache is of a dark brown color. His eye-brows are larger than the average and cover a pair of keen brown eyes that flash from one side of the chamber to the other with a quickness not recognizable in many of his colleagues. His nose is large and of the straight American type with fair Grecian base, implying care, watchfulness, economy and a fair share of good nature. His ears are large, but the lugs are small and plainly tell the observer that he whose head they adorn knows his own business best. His chin is broad but pointed, and possibly sometimes permits its owner to become a little vacillating. However, his perception is very large and comes to his rescue in all matters of trade and politics. He is naturally of a confident disposition, and when once deceived, will be just as unforgetting as he is tolerant. In this body he has been quiet, rather preferring to learn the "ways that are dark and the tricks that are vain," than to participate in their promulgation. Towards the close of the session he cast aside his native modesty and branched out with the rest of his colleagues in discussion. He speaks very deliberately and to the point, but takes care not to wrestle with propositions in which he or his immediate constituency are not particularly interested, and in that he exhibits good horse sense. He is still single, but from actual observations I would not be at all surprised to see him come down as the Assemblyman of old, on the fold of Reno, and Lochiel-like, flee to the shady groves of his lovely farm in Elko county with one of her fairest daughters. After them I can only request that you cast, with a "God bless you," the editorial slipper.

HON. SAMUEL J. BEEBEE,
Republican Assemblyman from Eureka county, is of average height, well built and hefty. He is a native of that little country which lies so contiguous to the United States as to justify the General Government to give it representation on the floors of Congress, and to allow it to elect a Governor and Legislature and control its own affairs just the same as all the sovereign States of the great sisterhood, and sometimes name the President of this Republic, viz.: New York. His eyes are gray-blue, and over them he wears glasses. His head is high, round and broad. There is no question but that he had enjoyed educational advantages in his youth, such as the boys of the present generation are blessed with, his love of adventure would have been checked by the cultivation which would have ensued. As it is I would take him now to be a man of good, strong horse sense, with a well balanced mind and a keen sense of right and an appreciation of what is just and proper in his dealings with his fellow men. He has heaps of native grit, and would not desert a friend for love or money. His ears are somewhat of the Egan order, denoting good nature and carefulness. His nose is aquiline, and with a chin that has considerable character in it, bespeak for their possessor more than an ordinary degree of penetrativeness and sagacity. He is a miner by occupation and still single. This does not, however, prevent him from casting a glance occasionally in the direction of the opposite sex. His eye-brows are full, large and dark, while his hair, which adorns the sides of a bald head, with his moustache, is rapidly turning gray. He, with his friend, Assemblyman Lyons, of White Pine county, notwithstanding the heavy pressure that was brought to bear upon him to the contrary, voted for Hon. Thomas Wren for United States Senator. This did not lower him at all in the estimation of his colleagues, nor in that of the successful candidate, Senator Stewart. Mr. Beebee could neither be convinced or bulldozed against his convictions, and therein lies the native strength of his character. He is much like Wm. Lawson, M. P., of the British House of Commons, with reference to party lines, when legislation involving the good of the whole people is concerned, and can frequently be heard quoting that gentleman's facetious lines:

How strangely are parties at present allied!
No skill the anomalies can smother,
When Democrats—Republicans sit on one side
And steadily vote on the other.

HON. JOHN D. REESE,
Assemblyman from Storey county, is in his 53d year and a native of England. He is very stout and strong, and appears to have worked hard in his early life. His hair and moustache are both gray. His face is full and complexion ruddy. His ears are the average size, indicating neither generosity nor parsimony. He has a firm chin and broad forehead, the latter not being very high. He is a very silent member, but always votes in accord with the dictates of his conscience. His eyes are brown, bespeaking for their possessor Danish ancestry. He is economically, sincere, honest and fairly genial in his make-up. He is married and by occupation an engineer, and is highly respected by those who sent him here. His honesty never has been questioned, and he will return to Storey county to be warmly welcomed by his constituents for having done his duty.

HON. J. W. POWELL,
Republican Senator (holdover) from Elko county, is the most tireless worker in this body. He is a native of Ohio, like his colleague Mr. Sharon, and in some respects resembles that gentleman, particularly in the formation of his chin, yet he is a tall, well-proportioned gentleman, with broad shoulders and deep chest, giving every evidence of great physical strength. Before even attempting a short pen portrait of him, I will say, taking him only at a glance, that he would have secured distinction, either in the medical or legal profession. He has a high, clean, unwrinkled forehead. His head is slightly bald, and gives the observer an opportunity of reading his character not otherwise enjoyed. It indicates veneration, sublimity, and a high order of intellectuality. Nevertheless, the eyes tell you at a glance that the brain was not furnished with that food in youth which makes men great. I think, however, it was not the fault of parental management so much as the early disposition of the subject of this sketch to see the world. Adventure, eagerness to know the why and wherefore of everything engendered a spirit of speculation and hence the school-house had few charms for him. To-day he is verging on 50 years and no doubt will recognize the truth of these reflections. Nevertheless, many men have been less successful in life. He is married, and domesticated. I should judge, finding more pleasure in the family circle than in the Senate chamber. He wears a heavy, dark-brown moustache, and has small eye-brows, which barely cover very large, penetrating eyes. There is no question but that he is one of the clearest-headed men in this body. His activity and attention go hand in hand together, and on the floor very few can compete with him in debate—not that he is a fluent speaker, but because on every question he rises to speak to be clear, concise and logical. His nose is of the Grecian build with broad base, underneath which lies a firm chin, bespeaking determination and positiveness. His ears stand out prominently, and give you distinctly to understand that very little worthy of his attention passes him unnoticed. He, I think, is a good man to tie to. Conscientiousness, fearlessness, adherence to principle and a love for the institutions of his country are the main traits of his character. Generosity is not a stranger to him; he is ever bright and ready in exercising his disposition under the influence he is given largely to investigation of the object who seeks the benefit of it. In other words, he is not looking around to find some worthy object on whom to bestow his surplus cash. He is, to all appearances, an Ohio man in the full acceptance of the term—thrifty, economical and sincere, and Elko county cannot do better than to elect him to represent it in this assembly. I would not return this straightforward, intelligent miner back to the Senate as her interests will be safe in his custodianship. He was recently married to a young lady from his native State.

HON. C. C. STEVENSON,
Republican Governor of the State of Nevada, is one of the most striking characters in this State. I would say a tall, handsome man. He stands fully six feet high and is built in proportion. Positiveness seems to be the principal characteristic of his make-up. He, though I never saw her, I think not only takes after but looks like his mother, who must have been a lady of a very strong mind. This conclusion I arrived at by the formation of his shoulders, strange as it may seem. Economy, discretion and cautiousness mark all his transactions, and these traits were transmitted from a large-brained, careful mother. It is singularly observed by many unthinking minds: "How is it that the sons of some mothers rise to distinction, while those of others go down the dark lane to a life that we would not like to picture in print?" There is nothing strange in this at all. The early influences are the leading factors in after life, and go far towards making up either the man or the woman of the future. This family of Stevensons come from the State of New York, and one of the sons has been a leading member of the Canadian House of Parliament, and to-day the other is the Governor of the Territory of Idaho, having been appointed to that exalted position by President Cleveland on account of his unswerving adherence to Democratic principles and his incorruptible integrity of character, while the subject of this sketch is the choice of the Republican electors of this sovereign State, to preside over its destinies as its first citizen for the next four years. He has light-brown eyes, which in youth, I think, were quite dark. He wears glasses, a fact I would attribute to too much underground work, and not any natural weakness. He is in his 62d year, but bears his age well, and with his enterprising wife and family gives no evidence of the approaches of time, but, on the contrary, appears to great advantage in the social circle. He has followed mining and become quite prosperous in that calling. Let us see why. His nose is long and aquiline. Over it is a high, broad, receding forehead, while the dome of the cranium is covered with a fair quantity of gray hair. His ears are large at the top, while the lugs are infinitesimal. His upper lip is shaved cleanly and no hair adorns his cheeks. On his chin he wears a neatly-trimmed gray whiskers and it covers a broad area of firmness and determination. He never identified himself in politics to any considerable extent before the last election; and then he did not strenuously seek the high honor that his fellow citizens have conferred upon him. Now as to his whole make-up, I can only say that those who thought when he was elected Governor, that he would be easily managed, will, if they only read this brief picture carefully, know better how to approach him. He is blessed with all that is desirable in this world's goods, and no inducement, however great, will cause him to swerve in the least from his path of duty. His eyes indicate carefulness, economy and shrewdness. His ears, accumulation and attention. His nose, (not stubbornness), the nearest approach to it, extreme positiveness and heaps of solidity in judgment on matters appertaining to the good of the common people; in other words, he has a mind of his own. Such men are sometimes deceived through the implicit confidence they place in their most tried and true friends, but never by the designing and hypocritical. His chin and cheekbones give him a character that any man should be proud of. There is a vein of good humor in him, but the glitter and tinsel of life have little interest for him, as he much prefers the solid and more substantial results of life's struggle and believes in providing against a rainy day. He is now wealthy and his election cost him less than any man ever elevated to the office he fills so creditably, and when his term expires, like that of his more versatile brother of Idaho, the people of either locality will never have cause to complain of their conduct and administration.

HON. W. E. SHARON,
Republican Senator from Storey county, like his deceased uncle, is a tireless, consistent worker in the ranks of the party to which the deceased Senator lent so much of his life's struggle in the days when the Republic was in danger of dissolution. This young gentleman takes a natural pride in the achievements of his distinguished uncle, and hence gives much of his time and attention to the successful operations of his party. He is one of the most active and sagacious members of the Republican State Executive Committee, and with Colonel Boyle and Captain Lord contributed largely towards the success which crowned the committee's efforts in the last campaign. He is of the average height, but compactly built, evidencing his capacity to undergo considerable exposure to the weather. His hair is rather of the blonde order; while his moustache is unmistakably so. He has a large receding forehead and penetrating pair of grey-blue eyes, eyes that a glance take in every situation deemed worthy of their owner's consideration. I would infer that cautiousness, confidence and economy are combined in him, as reflected in his active, ever bright and ready eyes. His nose is of the straight American type with just enough of the Roman in it, to tell you plainly that courage, foresight and speculation and concentration lie close behind it. He has a receding, though rather broad chin, indicating a disposition, notwithstanding his native firmness, a desire for consultation before embarking in any enterprise involving the expenditure of large sums of money. He would have made, had he embraced the profession, one of the best lawyers in the country, such a lawyer as those whose advice go far, and carry more conviction with a client than the eloquent outburst of the most forensic pleader before a court of justice. His ears are not large, but round and close to the cranium, being in thorough accord with the general contour. I unhesitatingly declare that he is careful, shrewd and withal, at times generous while music and intellectual delights furnish him pleasure in his leisure moments. From his general appearance I would infer that both philoprogenitiveness and inabitativeness are two strong features of his composition, implying fondness of home and children and love of country. In this body he watches every measure pertaining to the future welfare of the State; but particularly such as apply to the mining interests of Nevada. As a parliamentarian he has had as yet, no opportunity to exhibit his acquirements beyond the mere presiding over the deliberations of the Senate while in Committee of the Whole, in which position he has acquitted himself very creditably. As a speaker he has very little to say, but says that little well. He is a keen observer, not demonstrative, but on the contrary appears just the same to his brother Senators as he does to the most humble miner in the Yellow Jacket mine, and will return to Storey as he left, the same plain, blunt, unassuming gentleman he has ever been. He is a native of Ohio, married, and fills the responsible position of mining superintendent.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

SCROFULA

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effective an alternative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine in the world.

Attorney General Garland recently gave it as his opinion that the Restriction Act does not apply to Chinese women who come to this country as servants and nurses. When spoken to the other day of the matter, Collector Hagar, at San Francisco, said: "It really makes no difference what Mr. Garland or any one else has to say about who can and who cannot be admitted under the Restriction Act. The letter is long since a dead letter, and, as far as I am able to discern, the only effect will be a perceptible decrease in the receipts of Judge Hoffman's court. All the women they want get in now on the plea that they were born here, and so long as that habeas corpus mill grinds regularly, nothing can prevent it." Surveyor Tinnin echoes these sentiments, and adds that in a short time he expects to see every coolie who never had as much as ten dollars in his life, come in with a female servant.

German Government leaders say that the recent elections there mean peace. United Germany is too strong to fear France. Said one of these officials a day or two ago:

We see a flaming sword threatening—but have Russia belaboring our Eastern and France our Western flank. We spoke out so loudly in the recent elections that France heeded the warnings. Russia, however, is deaf. Every eye turned from France to Russia as soon as the results of the elections were known. It is from the East we now fear war. You can assure the Germans in America that for some months peace seems to be a reasonable certainty. But no man can predict what Russia's action will be. Prince Bismarck desires it; of that I am certain. From France we fear nothing.

The Truckee Republican, referring to the bill recently introduced into the California Legislature to prevent the dumping of saw-dust into the streams of that State, calls it "the same old legislative chestnut" that has been so often defeated, and the same paper is of the opinion that the time is too short to get the bill through at this session.

The Legislature will close its arduous labors on Thursday next, and the members will pack their gripsacks, cash their warrants, and depart for their several homes.

A Doomed Murderess.

HERKIMER, N. Y. February 28. In every pulpit here yesterday allusion was made to the case of Mrs. Druse, who is to be hanged to-day, and the hope was generally expressed that the proceedings would be availed. Mrs. Druse passed most of the day in tears. She contends that she is in reality innocent of the murder of her husband. Telegrams have been sent from here by the score, requesting the Governor to commute her sentence. Mrs. Druse on Saturday made her will, bequeathing her body to her clergyman, Rev. Mr. Powell and her cabinet organ to her daughter, Mary, who is in the Onondaga penitentiary, serving out a life sentence for her participation in her father's murder. Her son, George, had a parting interview with her Saturday and she was much affected. Last night service was held in her cell by Rev. Mr. Powell, who will conduct the funeral services to-day. Mrs. Druse has had a simple black dress made for the occasion. Only the small number of persons allowed by law will witness the execution, which will take place at about 11 A. M.

Roxalana Druse, who murdered her husband, Geo. Druse, in December, 1884, was hanged for the crime at noon to-day. After the services last evening, Mrs. Druse remained until about 11:30 when Deputy Sheriff Mannion, with Mr. and Mrs. Waterman, the death watch, induced her to lie down and she had about an hour's quiet sleep. She awakened with a start, and upon arising began to write letters as calmly as she had at any time during her incarceration. In one of these she thanked the Sheriff for his kindness to her and asked that her body might be given to her pastor for a Christian burial. After writing she lay down again and fell into a doze. She was attacked with hysteria in a violent form and it required considerable effort upon part of the watchers to arouse and calm her. During the night she ate one of the heartiest meals she had eaten since she was a prisoner. She had about two hours rest after 4 A. M., but did not sleep soundly at any time. One of her first visitors this morning was Superintendent Irving Terry of the Onondaga penitentiary, who brought a farewell from her daughter Mary, who is likewise a prisoner. This visit had a most exciting effect upon Mrs. Druse. Rev. Dr. Powell visited Mrs. Druse about 9 and did all in his power to calm and prepare her for the awful moment. Every road leading into the town was dotted with vehicles crowded with fur-coated men, and not a few women. The crowd in the village increased on the arrival of every train, and in spite of the winter cold, men, women and children stood about the streets surrounding the jail. The execution was witnessed by 25 persons, including the official. Yesterday morning Mrs. Druse made a confession to Dr. Powell, her spiritual adviser, in which she declared that Charles Gates had instigated her to commit the murder, and says he provided her with the revolver. She declared that after she fired the first shot, Gates fired the three succeeding shots from the window. She confessed to having cut up her husband's body, and that Gates took the body away and buried it. She related that she killed Druse because he had treated her cruelly and brutally.

An Expensive Blaze.

New York, February 28. Two lighters filled with cotton, and the steamer "Lone Star," of the Morgan steamship line, were burned at the foot of Charlton street, North river. The steamer and lighters were towed into midstream to save other shipping nearby. It is reported that the steamer was burned to death on the river. Several other sailors jumped into the river to save themselves. The Lone Star is the steamer which ran into and sunk the British steamer "Wells City" a few weeks ago. The burned steamer was damaged about $100,000 and was beached on the Jersey shore. The loss on the pier was about $100,000. The loss on the cotton was about $150,000.

A Pure Water Supply.
The prospective future of Reno is awakening a general as well as local interest. In addition to the reduction works and electric light, it now looks as if we will have a new source of water supply. A company has been organized with J. C. Hampton, Captain Overton, William Thompson and James Mayberry as incorporators, who propose, the coming summer, to bring the water of Hunter Creek through pipes into town. This stream is practically the property of Mr. Mayberry, and empties into the river about four miles above town. It has its head in the Sierras, and originates and is fed from a series of strong springs which never fail. From its source to its mouth the distance is short, and its fall is such that any elevation for storage can be had. The scheme of supplying Reno with this water has frequently been agitated but never before has a practical step been taken. It is said the company will proceed at once to negotiate for pipe, and as soon as the season will permit will commence work, and ere next Autumn, Reno will have another system of water works.

A Close Call.
At Cape Horn Mills, on the C. P., last Friday, an emigrant car loaded with snow shovels, was backed off an open switch and turned over on its side. Had this coupling broken the car would have dropped about 80 feet, and the loss of life would have been great.

Look to Your Interests.

Now that the authorities are putting forth well-directed efforts to make Reno one of the healthiest towns on the Pacific Coast, it behooves every citizen to do all in his power to accomplish the desired end. Everything in the way of filth around business houses and private residences that is offensively odorous should be carted out of town and dumped where it will do no harm. Along Commercial Row and Virginia street are several cellars that emit through the wooden gratings in the sidewalks stenches strong and loathsome enough to poison the healthiest blood. Gentlemen, look to your own and the town's interests, and see that the disease-breeding nuisances are removed.

A Liberal Rebate.

Mark S. Severance, freight agent of the Southern Pacific system, this section, has notified miners of White Pine county that on all ores they ship to Salt Lake or Reno for treatment the company will allow a rebate of 25 per cent off its rates from Palisade to Ogden, or Palisade to Reno, whenever the ores are teamed to Eureka for shipment over the Eureka and Palisade railroad, unless there are special circumstances—very high grade ore, etc.—which seem to render this rebate unnecessary.

Stock Shipments.

A special train left here last evening with 14 cars of beef cattle, shipped to San Francisco by William Smith, four cars shipped to Stockton by Louis Dean, two cars shipped by J. Wilson to San Francisco, one car to Sacramento for Gerber Bros., and George Humphrey shipped one car to Truckee.

The Comstock Bonanza.

During the week ending Saturday the average assay value of all the ore shipped from the Consolidated California and Virginia mine to the Morgan and Eureka mills was $27.82 per ton. The company shipped to San Francisco on last evening's express train bullion valued at about $47,000.

Fine Beef Cattle.

Ninety-five head of steers recently sold by J. H. Thies, of Loyoleck, to M. Brandenstein & Co. are said to have averaged 700 pounds net. The sale was made at that figure without weighing.

Attention, G. A. R.

All members of O. M. Mitchell Post, G. A. R., are requested to wear hats and badges to the entertainment to be given at the theater February 28th and March 1st.

N. P. JACQUES, Commander.

Mrs. J. L. Stevenson, accompanied by her physician, Dr. Mulen and Mrs. W. P. Pratt of Virginia City, will leave this evening for California.

Hon. W. H. Hanks arrived from Carson Saturday evening to meet his wife who came in from Wells and who accompanied her husband to the State capital.

G. W. Mershon, the efficient night-watchman of Reno, will leave this evening for Laporte, Sierra county, Cal., to attend his uncle, who is reported at the point of death. During Mr. Mershon's absence Mr. Nichols will act as night-watchman.

Comstockers Want the Electric Light.

Several business men of Virginia have during the past week, consulted with Mr. J. L. Stevenson, manager of the Reno Electric Light Company, concerning the construction in that city of a plant of either one or two 45-lamp dynamos. Mr. Stevenson regards the proposition favorably, and says that in case business men and others there subscribe for 90 acres the investment necessary can be made a profitable one, and no greater charges required for the light than is now paid for gas, notwithstanding steam power will have to be used for generating purposes.

Merit Will Tell.

Was never better demonstrated than when "Fryer's Abietene Remedies" were awarded diplomas at the late California State Fair at Sacramento and at the Mechanics Institute at San Francisco. W. Pinniger is agent for these celebrated "Abietene Remedies" and he offers to return your money if they do not give satisfaction. In buying, be sure the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer is on each, as none are genuine without it.

What True Merit Will Do.

The unprecedented sale of "Boschee's German Syrup" within a few years, has astonished the world. It is without doubt the safest and best remedy ever discovered for the speedy and complete cure of coughs, colds and the severest lung troubles. It acts on an entirely different principle from the usual prescriptions given by physicians, as it does not dry up a cough and leave the disease still in the system, but on the contrary, removes the cause of the trouble, heals the parts affected and leaves them in a purely healthy condition. A bottle kept in the house for use when the diseases makes their appearance, will save doctors' bills and a long spell of serious illness. A trial will convince you of these facts. It is positively sold by all druggists and general dealers in the land. Price, 75 cents, large bottles.

Unnecessary Misery.

Probably as much misery comes from habitual constipation as from any derangement of the functions of the body, and it is difficult to cure, for the reason that no one likes to take the medicines usually prescribed. Hamburg Figs were prepared to obviate this difficulty, and they will be found pleasant to the taste of women and children. Twenty-five cents. At all druggists. J. J. Mack & Co., proprietors, S. F.

Manning & Jaques have been appointed plumbers for the Reno Water Co. All other persons are warned against tampering with the mains or making connections thereto. Since which time he has used it in his family for all coughs and colds with best results. This is the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shepherd, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. I have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; my doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and now my leg is sound and well." Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25 cents per box by S. J. Hodgkinson & Co's.

Life in the Paris Sewers.

Is possible for a short time to the robust but the majority of refined persons would prefer immediate death to existence in their reeking atmosphere. How much more revolting to be in one's self a living sewer. But this is actually the case with those in whom the inactivity of the liver drives the refuse matter of the body to escape through the lungs, heart, the pores, kidneys and bladder. It is astonishing that life remains in such a dwelling. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" restores normal purity to the system and renews the whole being.

For weak lungs spitting of blood, shortness of breath, consumption, night sweats, and all lingering coughs, Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is a sovereign remedy. Superior to Cod Liver Oil. By Druggists.

"Her face so fair as flesh it seemed not, But heavenly portrait of bright angel's hue, Clear as the sky without a blame or blot, Through goodly mixture of complexions dim."

And in her cheeks the vermilion red did show. This is a poet's description of a woman whose physical system was in a perfectly sound and healthy state and every function acting properly, and is the enthusiastic commendation of her fair patrons professed by Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription."

The English Go-Cart.

Of all the silly limitations of English customs, perhaps the silliest is the use of the clumsy, teetering, unsafe and uncomfortable English two-wheeled go-cart in place of the easiest, lightest and handsomest vehicle
in the world, the American buggy.
The merits of the American construction are recognized in England if not here, as witness the following paragraph from a recent number of the London Field: "These American buggies are fast coming into favor in this country among people who like to travel fast, and yet do not care to run the risks always entailed upon two-wheeled traveling. The American wagon, though it has four wheels, is safe, weighs less, and runs more easily than any two-wheeled trap in England." This is doubtless true; and it ought to make both Englishmen and Americans laugh at anybody who for a fashionable whimsy discards a good buggy and takes up a poor cart.—[Buffalo Ex-

200 LOTS FOR SALE

The manager of the Lake estate, in order to enhance the value of the property of the estate, as well as assist in

Building Up the Town of Reno

Has determined to offer two hundred fine building lots for sale, some of which are situated in the central part of town, and are very desirable for business purposes.
The proposed site for homes is immediately south of the Truckee river, and its elevation affords a magnificent view of the mountains in the distance, and the valley and town near at hand. A more perfect place for an elegant home could not be selected. The soil is good and an abundant supply of water will be sold with each lot.
The health of the locality cannot be questioned, as its elevation assures a perfect system of sewerage. Gas mains will be laid through the streets free of cost, for the benefit of those desiring to use them. It is also intended by the owners to lay out a park on the south side of the Truckee river, covering 20 acres, in which the public may enjoy the pleasure of driving, fishing and boating.

The educational advantages of Reno are well known, and the business prospects of the town are assured beyond a doubt. Purchasers of these lots may feel confident that the best of terms will be offered, and they will be fairly dealt with. For further particulars, ad-
